THE Liquor Law Investigating Committee meet in this city next Tuesday.

HON. WM. F. JOHNSTON, of this city, has been appointed by the President one of the visitors of West Point Academy.

REV. C. H. BRIGHAM, of Massachusetts, has become Professor of Medieval History in the Unitarian College at Meadville.

THE passage of the new Bankrupt Bill through the House, by a majority of nine, gives some promise that it may go through the Senate.

MR. MAYNARD, of Tennessee, is speaking in West Virginia in favor of the Constitutional Amendment excluding rebels from voting.

THERE is much excitement in Greene county, Md., over the mysterious murder of Mr. Shoemaker, of the Strip. He was shot, while out on his farm.

GEN. FRANK. WOLFORD was yesterday elected by the United States Senate, from Canada, out for the full term of six years. The vote was a strict party one. Mr. Foster will draw his pension.

IN Washington city, the Republicans nominated candidates at June 16th, for Associate Judges, Prothonotary, Clerk of the Court, Register, Recorder, Commissioners, Director of the Poor, and Auditor.

THE Tennessee House of Representatives has passed a resolution, by a vote of 51 to 11, declaring that Jeff. Davis and other leaders of the late rebellion forfeited their lives, right to office and all political privileges forever.

IN Overton county, Tennessee, last week, some outlaws went to the house of Mr. Gunter, took him to the woods, stripped him, and severely whipped him. His daughter seized a gun and, rushing to the rescue, killed one of the outlaws. Mr. Gunter and his daughter had to leave the neighborhood.

SECRETARY MCCULLOCH has issued a circular to the Collectors of Internal Revenue, directing them to withhold certificates to claimants for the abandoned and captured property fund, in all cases where the claimants have been engaged in the rebellion, or have given aid and comfort to the enemy, unless they have taken the oath of amnesty and have received pardon from the President.

A LETTER in Indiana says that Mr. Wilson will not be in readiness for Congress in time to make a speech, and expects to be later than that. It will not be worth while to read it, as Wade Hampton will be in Washington and have replied to it before it arrives.

THE question of the Constitutionality of the Test Oath is being tested in Pennsylvania, and soon the case will be before the Supreme Court. Attorney General McCandless has carried up for decision the case of Mr. Cooper, who refused to take the oath.

THE Secretary of the Interior has appointed Mr. Parker, of Harmony, who helped pay the Committee for the Reconstruction Amendment, as well as the New York Museum. After the announcement of the appointment in the House last Wednesday, it was then stated that seven Republican votes were cast against George Ferry, contrary to the agreement made on January Mr. Burnham and said: "Well, we are raising out your party; we have got seven more hers to-day." Yes, Sarah Garnella, "the same mistake that were taken out of Mary Magdalene."

A WASHINGTON special to the Cincinnati Gazette tells this story:

An intimate friend called upon Mr. Seward to go in his company to be presented to Mr. Lincoln. As they were entering the grounds of the White House this friend said, "Mr. Seward, I must confess exceedingly to be going with you to see the President, instead of calling on you as President."

To this, Mr. Seward, stopping short, turning full upon him, scowled with great bitterness in his tone, "I have had enough dealings of the Republican party, and to that I will have my redress."

He has been taking it for five years, and is taking it now.

TAX Butler Citizen says:

"During the last winter our people have been continually excited on the question of the probable construction of a railroad from, at or near Freeport to this place. A corps of engineers spent the greater part of the winter, running different routes, most of which seemed to contemplate a location in the southern part of the county. After the winter's prospecting, this corps has commenced a permanent location of a route from Tarentum, by way of the Glade Mills to the mouth of Glade run, or rather they have completed this location, and are now engaged in locating a road from this terminus to the borough of Butler. They may be expected to arrive in this place in a few days. This is a surprise on most of our people, who always seemed to see them approach us from the southeast. The present movement would seem to foreshadow the construction of a through route from Tarentum to Homewood Station, with a branch running up the Connoquenessing to this place."

A WASHINGTON TELEGRAM, yesterday or day before, denied that the Test Oath had been pronounced unconstitutional by the Supreme Court. The St. Louis Republican of the 22d inst. says:

"The reply of Hon. John Hogan to Governor Fletcher, published yesterday, touched upon the matter of the Missouri test oath, and the statement was reiterated that the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States had decided this oath unconstitutional, void and of no effect. Mr. Hogan repeats that he received this information from one of the Judges, and without any injunction of secrecy. There is, indeed, little room to doubt that the decision was made during the recent session, and its announcement only deferred out of consiaerations have no reference to the merits of the case. The Justices concurring in this decision are James M. Wayne, Samuel Nelson, Robert C. Grier, Nathan Clifford and Stephen J. Field. The dissenting Justices are Salmon P. Chase (Chief Justice), Noah M. Swayne, David Davis and Samuel F. Miller. The writing of the decision was left to Judge Field, of California.

THURSDAY, MAY 24, 1866.

FOR GOVERNOR:

MAJ. GEN. JOHN W. CEARY,

OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

SECRETARY SEWARD.

For this gentleman's intellectual ability we have a profound respect; for his personal and public character, comparatively little. Excepting Mr. ALEXANDER HAMILTON, we recall to mind no American Statesman who surpasses him in breadth of understanding, in keenness of analysis, in perspicuity of statement, in beauty of illustration, or in amplitude of knowledge. Without the advantage of a commanding or winning presence, or the charm of musical utterance, or the grace of appropriate gesture—with no claims whatever to oratory—he is unquestionably the ablest teacher of political doctrines among the Statesmen of this country in the present age. Herein is the secret of his power. If his moral qualities were in proportion and harmony with his mental endowments, he would present a surpassing character, and wield a resistless influence over the wiser and better classes of his countrymen. Such is not the fact. He is cold, impassive, unscrupulous, selfish. The claims of veracity he does not recognize. His habit is, not to say what he believes to be true, but what he thinks to be temporarily convenient and advantageous. This damaging judgment received so many striking confirmations during the progress of the rebellion, and since, that to justify the promulgation of it we need only point to a few prominent instances.

Before the inauguration Mr. LINCOLN in 1861, Mr. SEWARD made a speech in New York in which he lavished extravagant laudation upon the noble South Carolinians who were then engaged in throwing up fascinating works against Major ANDERSON, in Fort Sumter. He assumed to be prophetic, and prophesied that "the country would be happy" in ninety days. Scarcely was he seated in the Department of State before he put Mr. JAMES E. HARVEY in communication with the rebels, and apprized them of the military and naval plans of the government against Charleston. As soon as the war fully opened, he addressed circular letters to all the Representatives of the government abroad, instructing them to give assurances to the Cabinets to which they were accredited that whatever results might follow from the progress of the war, not a slave would be emancipated. He went so far as to charge Mr. ADAMS to assure the British government that the war would be prosecuted for territorial reclamations solely. It was this that drew from EARL RUSSELL the taunt reproach that stung American sensitiveness to the quick, that the war was waged on one side for independence, and on the other for dominion. Immediately after the drawn conflict at Antietam he wrote once more to Mr. ADAMS, this time concerning the culpable efforts of disunionists, north and south, to prevent the re-establishment of peace. This was the first insinuation of that reproach of disloyalty against the men who were supporting the government in the prosecution of the war, which has been a leading staple in the recent speeches of President JOHNSON. In this category President LINCOLN stood foremost. The SECRETARY volunteered to the Senate that a Committee of that body was appointed to wait on the President, and ask Mr. SEWARD'S removal. Mr. SEWARD resigned; but through the interposition of Mr. CHASE the matter was fixed up, and Mr. SEWARD retained his portfolio. When the war ended, may, before it had closed, he extended the loathing contempt to which we have referred still further, and claimed that the Southern people had forfeited no political rights by rebellion, and, consequently, should be admitted, as soon as they laid down their arms, to an equal participation with men of unshaken loyalty in the direction and control of the government.

On the 23d instant Mr. SEWARD was at his home in Auburn, N. Y., and made a carefully prepared speech to his co-townsmen. This effort bears in all its parts, evidences of the sidelongs and insincerity for which its author is conspicuous. What is it Mr. SEWARD is really laboring to accomplish? A reconstruction of the republic? They judge superficially who think so. His chief aim is a reorganization of political parties. His purpose is to rule out, as unworthy of trust and consideration, the bulk of the men through whose wisdom, and sacrifices, and labor, the rebellion was crushed, and to count in the men at the South who did their utmost to overthrow the government, and the men at the North who sympathised with treason and would have engaged in it themselves but for the fact that the State government under which they lived were in the hands of loyal men. Mr. SEWARD does not say this. He is incapable of so much honesty. He presents rather an array of specious phrases, which have no soundness in them, and are designed to mislead. These is not such degree of loyalty as he pretends among the masses of the Southern people. They appealed to the arbitrament of battle, and were beaten. Defeat has not altered their convictions or changed their sentiments. They submit to the conqueror because the arm of resistance failed them. They remain in the Union not from love of it, but from constraint.

Now we, well as Mr. SEWARD, hold magnanimity an excellent thing, and that it has its uses in the economy of nations as well as in the concerns of private life. We have not been disposed to crowd the vanquished to the wall, and pin them there, but have inclined to deal as leniently with the insurgents as should be found to comport with present safety and permanent repose. But it is not magnanimity to esteem traitors and cowards as worthy as the men whose devotion to the country saved the honor of the flag, the integrity of the national territory and the existence of our institutions. To do it is treachery, treason, perfidy, and this is what Mr. SEWARD is guilty of.

What is Mr. SEWARD, and what has he done, that he should be accounted worthy of special honor at the hands of an Administration chosen by Republicans? Within three months after taking a seat in the Senate, did he not turn his back on the professions of his whole life, and on the principles for the defence of which he was appointed? Did he not spurn the friends who confided in him, and elevate him to position and influence? Did he not consort and sing with the Copperheads on almost every important division throughout the war? Are these things credentials entitling him to the confidence of the Administration now? Yet everybody knows his word is more potent with the President to-day than the united voices of all the undoubtedly loyal men in Pennsylvania. Who has changed? Not Mr. COWAN.

But this is not the whole case. The President has taken to his embrace the whole copperhead confraternity. The leaders of that ilk are his chosen advisers, friends, confidants. He is labouring with all his might to accomplish their restoration to power. The veil of profession he throws over his conduct in this particular is so transparent it deceives no one. Every politician in Pennsylvania and every other northern State, knows that the President and Secretary of State are not acting with the Republicans, but are acting with the copperheads. They are not acting in the interest of peace and concord. They are needlessly stirring up fresh strife. If when LEE and JOHNSTON surrendered the administration, instead of entering into intrigues with the rebel leaders, and seeking through them political combinations for mutual aggrandisement, had convoked Congress, and matured in co-operation with it the basis of restoration, the Union would have been fully re-established before this time, by the admission of southern delegations to the Senate and House of Representatives.

Mr. SEWARD speaks of the necessity of reconciliation. Is the Policy of the Administration producing the state of feeling he desires? Doubtless the late insurgents are pleased with that Policy; but are they the men who ought to be primarily consulted by the government? Do you call that a reconciliation which revolts ninety out of every hundred men who stood by the government, and without whose help the rebellion would have triumphed? Do you call it conciliation for the Administration to quit the camp of the men who saved the government and plant itself in the camp of those who sought the national life? Do you count it conciliation to make loyalty odious instead of treason?

If Mr. SEWARD was as well developed and symmetrical in his emotive side as on his intellectual; if his love of Truth, and Justice, and Humanity was proportioned to his perception of their beauty; he would, before this, have achieved a colossal fame, and stood for ages a revered monument on the shores of history. As the case stands, he must take a subordinate rank and be destined to a rapid eclipse of reputation; like many others who, at different periods, have delighted and astonished, but failed fully to inspire esteem and command respect.

Suicide in High Life—Self Destruction of one of One Most Wealthy Citizens.

Another soul has been ushered into eternity and passed "to that bourne from which no traveler returneth." Yesterday morning between the hours of four and five o'clock, William G. Ewing, Jr., adopted son of the late Wm. G. Ewing, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver through the head. Yesterday, all manner of rumors were current on the streets, none of which were correct.

It appears the deed was premeditated, as the deceased had been heard to say that when he got helpless he would not remain long on earth, that he would end all his troubles by self destruction. He has been ill for months past, and most all winter confined to his bed. His disease was slow consumption, and his sufferings was great; he was anticipating the grim monster at any hour. On Friday and Saturday last he was busily engaged in closing up certain matters concerning his domestic difficulties, as he was divorced from his wife, the eldest daughter of Colonel G. W. Ewing, Sr., several years ago. One child, a lovely little girl, was the fruit of this union. After the separation, Mrs. Ewing took the child, which was boarding with him at the residence of Mrs. Esther Ewing, corner of Ewing and Berry streets.

On Saturday evening he sent for his Attorney, Judge Morris, to draw up his will, in which he left the bulk of his wealth to his daughter. Yesterday morning, at the hour mentioned above, Mrs. Ewing had left his room, when he arose from his bed and walked to a bureau in the room, upon which was a mirror. Opening one of the drawers, he took a revolver, and standing in front of the mirror, deliberately placed the muzzle of the weapon about an inch above and in range of his ear, and pulled the trigger, and he fell to the floor a corpse. Instantly Mrs. Ewing rushed into the room and found that life was extinct. She immediately notified the authorities, the Coroner was sent for, who had a jury impannelled, the verdict of which was in accordance with the facts we have given. The deceased, we believe, was born in this country, and had resided here nearly all his lifetime, and was well known, not only here but abroad, and he was formally connected with the business house of G. W. & W. Ewing, the well known Indiana capitalist. He was about thirty six years of age, and leaves a large circle of friends and acquaintances who will mourn his rash act.—Ft. Wayne (Indiana) Democrat.

(From the Milwaukee Sentinel, May 23.)

Burning of the Kilbourn Bridge.

The devouring element has again visited Kilbourn city, a place which has already, within a few weeks, suffered no little devastation by fire and flood. A telegram announces the burning, on Saturday afternoon, of the fine bridge of the Milwaukee and St. Paul railway across the Wisconsin at that point. The fire is believed to have originated from sparks from a locomotive which crossed and re-crossed the bridge a few minutes before the flames were discovered.

The importance of this disaster may be realized from the fact that making no account of the local travel which passes over the public highway part of the bridge, the Milwaukee and St. Paul railway has been hauling over it more than 50,000 bushels of wheat per day, and large quantities of other freight, all of which traffic will have to be suspended, or diverted at a sacrifice into other channels. One effect of the disaster was to depress the wheat market, already abnormally high, nine cents per bushel within two hours.

This excitement subsided in a measure, however, when it was ascertained that the St. Paul company had made arrangements to put all its rolling stock upon the Prairie du Chien road, and that the joint traffic of the two would not be diminished more than 25 per cent. by the accident.

Kilbourn bridge was built in 1857, by Boomer, of Chicago, and cost about $25,000. It was 450 feet long, and 72 feet above the water, of the Howe truss plan, very thoroughly built, and the best railroad bridge in the State. Mr. Boomer, the builder, was telegraphed for on Saturday, and left yesterday morning for Kilbourn, together with Mr. Merrill, general manager, and Mr. Reasoner, Superintendent of the St. Paul railway, for the purpose of making estimates for the rebuilding of the bridge. It is thought that this can be expected within fifty or sixty days. A hundred workmen, or thereabouts, will be placed at work upon the new structure immediately.

Beecher and Tilton.

Beecher and Tilton had an amusing skirmish lately. The Plymouth congregation were considering the question of raising means to erect a Congregational church in Washington, where it is supposed to be peculiarly needed. Beecher had studiously avoided all reference to political matters, when Tilton being loudly called for, entered the pulpit and simply said that he was greatly interested in the Washington church enterprise, and added that he had spent some time in Washington, and with all due reference to his friend Beecher, he could say that he had heard just as good preaching in that benighted city as he ever had in Brooklyn, and what was more, the Washington sermons were a great deal sounder in a political way than the recent utterances of Plymouth pulpit. This called Tilton's speech, which upon be good humoredly gave the Rev. Beecher a tremendous slap on the knee, and in return the Plymouth pastor boyishly but vigorously pushed the editorial Tilton out of the pulpit, while the large audience was convulsed with laughter at the discomfiture of the Johnsonian clergyman.

—Seven of the convicts at the State Prison at Thomaston, Me., tried to break out one day last week, but the attempt was discovered by the officers, and a bullet in the leg of the ringleader crippled him and defeated his plans.

—The newly appointed United States District Attorney of Georgia is Henry S. Fitch, son of ex Senator Fitch, of Indiana, one of Buchanan's leading supporters. In 1856 he was a leader of the Breckinridge faction at Chicago.

—A colored woman named Sphyrs, said to be an illegitimate daughter of G. W. P. Custis, and therefore a nephew of Mrs. R. E. Lee, has been put in possession of 12 acres of the Arlington estate, upon which she has lived for 30 years.

—Dr. Newland, who killed Prof. Evans, his daughter's seducer, has returned to his home, at Bedford, Ind., since his acquittal, where he received the congratulations of the citizens. On the day of his return his unfortunate daughter became a mother.

—The city of Paris is abundantly supplied with ice from Switzerland and Norway. Enormous cargoes arrive from Baltic steamers from Norway reach Havre every week. The blocks of ice from the North measure on an average a cube of three feet.

—The death of William Hutchings, of Penobscot, Maine, leaves only one Revolutionary pensioner. He is Lemuel Cook, of Charendon, Orleans county, N. Y. He was born near Wolfborough, Carroll county, N. H., which was then a part of Stratford county, and credited to the quota of New Hampshire during the Revolution. There are four widows now drawing Revolutionary pensions.

—Chattanooga is making rapid strides in the march of improvement. They have water-works already in operation there, a good fire department in efficient working order, gas works commenced, a fine city hall under contract, besides a great number of minor enterprises. The National Cemetery at that place is the largest, and will be, when finished, the finest, without exception, in the Union.

—Thirty-three years ago, Mr. Truman Enos, of Norwich, N. Y., had his pocket picked, in Utica, of $200. In 1846, thirteen years after, he received an anonymous letter containing $800 and the knowledge that some time he would receive the balance. Four weeks ago, Mr. E., now in his 87th year, received $150 from the same source. The thief now thoroughly repentant, wishes Mr. E. to forgive him, and the old gentleman heartily does so. "Cases of conscience" have been reported quite extensively at the Treasury headquarters, but this beats them all.

—In the new number of the Journal of the Statistical Society, there is a very interesting paper by Dr. William Farr, on "The Mortality of Children in the Principal States of Europe," full of curious statistics. It shows that the proportion of deaths under the age of five out of every hundred children born alive is in Norway 17, in Denmark 20, in Sweden 20, in England 26, in Belgium 27, in France 29, in Prussia 32, in Holland 33, in Austria 36, in Spain 56, in Russia 57, and in Italy 57. Dr. Farr is very severe against the too early substitution of spoon meat and natural food, and gives much curious information as to the prevalence of infanticide.

Previous to his discovery of the Nervine, this medicine was before the Fourth edition, enlarged and improved, in perfect antidote to intemperance. As a specific for diseases of the stomach and Stomach, in all persons addicted to the use of stimulants and narcotics, as alcohol and such like liquors, opium, morphine, strychnine, tobacco, &c., it removes the morbid appetite, or craving of the stomach for stimulant, in Healthful, Permanent manner, and all nervous diseases, it has no equal as a Nervine.

Ten years use of the Improved English Bitters, in St. Bartholomew's Hospital, St. Mary's Hospital, Newgate and other prisons, has established its reputation as a cure for Intemperance, and gained for it the approval of the attending surgeons in all the hospitals and prisons throughout Great Britain and its provinces. CITY AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

Providence Mission Sunday Schools.

EDITORS PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.—For several years past a very interesting and flourishing Sunday School has been maintained in the upper portion of Allegheny city. It might, indeed, be called two schools, although so united as to be in reality one institution. One meets on the morning and the other in the afternoon. At present, owing to the impossibility of procuring a place of meeting in both parts of the day, they are obliged to occupy different houses, and even these are inadequate in size, and quite unsuited to such a purpose. Nevertheless both are crowded with children, and are taught by as faithful a corps of christian men and women as can be found anywhere, many of whom walk long distances, through fair weather or foul, to instruct these little ones in that best of all knowledge which it is their delightful task to impart, and lead hundreds of the neglected children of poverty to feel for the best of all friends. The influence of these faithful ministrations has been very salutary.

These teachers now appeal to a generous christian public to aid them in the erection of a suitable building to accommodate these schools, also to serve for a mission church. It will require about four thousand dollars to do this, of which sum twelve hundred have already been contributed; and we earnestly bespeak for the ladies and gentlemen, who have undertaken the somewhat arduous task of soliciting donations, a generous response.

The gifts of the children who attend the school afford the strongest testimony of the worthiness of the object, and of the good it is doing them. One noble little fellow, a member of a poor family, after the hours of labor usually tell were over, earned seventy-five cents by wheeling trunks to the depot. This he brought to his teacher as part of his contribution to the building fund. Some of the little boys of the Infant Class, by permission, gathered nails and old iron where an old building was being torn down, sold them and brought the proceeds to help build the house. One of these boys was delighted that he was able to contribute $1,25. Several others have managed by their industry to make donations to the amount of a dollar and upwards, thus illustrating how well instruction, liberality and zeal among the children of the poor ought to stir and open the hearts of those who, more highly favored by Heaven, can build them a house, and thus make them glad, without any such laborious efforts.

Accidents on the Pennsylvania Railroad.

John McCabe, brakeman on the local freight train of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was killed on Monday, at the switch near Ludwig, Westmoreland county, in the vicinity of the crossing at Tom Stokes' farm. While in the act of shifting cars he endeavored to leap on the track, but missed his footing and fell, the cat ars passing over his head, severing it from his body.

A Yankeeman named Mackey was killed by the Johnstown Accommodation train, on Wednesday of last week, at the water tank at Story's, two miles east of Greensburg. While stopping to supply the locomotive of the freight train to which he was attached with water, he stepped to the side of the track, and the Accommodation coming along unnoticed by him, was struck on the head and injured in such a manner that he survived but a very short time.

Found Dead.

On the evening of the 15th instant, Turner Cane, aged about twenty years, son of Samuel Cane, of Independence township, Beaver county, was found dead about half a mile from his father's house. He was discovered late in the evening, by a small boy, lying on his face, with his arms under his head. He had that evening started to go to his father's in company with two young men of his acquaintance, and was found only a few rods from the place where they stated they had separated from him, but the time of separation perfectly well to all appearance. On examination of the brain, it was found that a bloodvessel had given way, allowing the blood to escape within the membranes and ventricles of the brain, thus causing his death by compression. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the above facts.

Fire on Pioneer Run.

We learn from the Titusville Herald that an extensive fire occurred on Saturday morning on Pioneer Run. The following is a list of the property destroyed: Stewart well No. 1 and 2,200 barrels of oil; loss $15,000. Underwood's wells Nos. 1, 2 and 3, 1,050 bbls of oil; loss $20,000. Harris well, 1,000 bbls of oil; loss $10,000. Haack well, no oil; loss $5,000. Wise well, 20 bbls of oil; $5,000. No. 2, Shoe and Leather Lease, drilling; loss $5,000. Cottage well, 200 bbls of oil, loss $6,000. Lease No. 4, Shoe and Leather, derrick burned; loss $500. John Burns well, derrick burned; loss $100. The Pioneer refinery, owned by Mr. Dean and leased by J. A. Haack, was partially destroyed, including 1,000 bbls of crude oil; loss $15,000. The treating house was saved. The total loss by this fire was about $75,000.

Mayor's Office.

Alderman Morrow officiated as Mayor yesterday morning. Capt. Lewis mustered his command of "drunks," numbering nine, at six o'clock, the hour for the opening of the court, seven were out of funds, and were "sent up" for one day. Shanus O'Brien and Charles McMurray, for disorderly conduct, were fined five dollars, and in default were committed for five days. Catherine Hilands, for vagrancy, went up for twenty days. George Parker, charged with being disorderly, paid a fine of five dollars. George Bennett, Noble Jones, and Edward McDermott, were fined two dollars each for committing nuisance in the Custom House yard.

Stealing in Jail.—Alderman Strain yesterday took the information of Lewis Lesser, a prisoner in the county jail, against Joseph Bowman, also a prisoner, for the larceny of a pair of knives, a table spoon and a towel, valued in all at $2.25. Bowman was committed to prison by Alderman Strain, while acting as Mayor, for disorderly conduct, and upon being discharged, after his term of imprisonment had expired, he took with him the articles mentioned from the cell jointly occupied by him and the prosecutor. Yesterday Bowman was arrested for drunkenness, and committed by the Mayor. The Alderman lodged a committment against him to answer the charge of larceny.

Out in Grey.—We notice that some of the Mayor's police have donned uniforms of grey with silver (?) buttons. If it has been decided upon that the police shall wear uniforms, why not oblige all to put them on, so that there may be some regularity or uniformity? Pittsburgh has suffered heretofore from the want of a well organized and disciplined police, and since the first step (in the way of uniforming them) has been taken to wards remedying this deficiency, we would like to see the matter persevered in.

Drilling.—Pupils at the Western University, corner of Diamond and Ross streets, are put through military drill. Yesterday we observed about fifty of them marching, facing and going through various maneuvers in the "second street Park," under the guidance and instruction of a gentleman who seemed well posted in the "tactics." Some of the boys were uniformed, and they appear to have a regular company organization. They call themselves the "Western University Cadets."

Bawdy House.—The Mayor's police made a descent upon dwelling 43 Liberty street, on Tuesday night, and arrested therein Nelly Black, Sarah White, Mary McCune and Gib Trimble, charged with maintaining a bawdy house. After a hearing on yesterday morning, the Mayor discharged Nelly Black and Mary McCune, and held the others for trial.

Larceny.—John Lewellen was yesterday committed to jail by Acting-Mayor Morrow on a charge of having stolen some trifling article of jewelry from Evans' Gift Store, Fifth street. This is the fifth person who has been arrested during the past few days on similar charged from the same store.

Paid his Score.—David Augenbaugh, discharged from the Penitentiary on Tuesday morning, and arrested during that day by the Mayor's police in a glorious state of drunkenness, was released from the tombs yesterday upon paying the usual fine of "two-ninety."

Arrested.—Stephen Caverell and R. Patrick were arrested yesterday, at the instance of street Commissioner Hunter, and brought before Acting-Mayor Morrow for sweeping the dirt of their store into the street. They were released on payment of costs

Fined.—R. Patrick & Co., yesterday were fined four dollars for sweeping dirt out of their Banking house, on Fifth street. The complaint was made by Street Commissioner Hunter, before the Mayor

Discharged.—Baker and Lipman, who were arrested on Tuesday on acharge of having abducted a child from Cincinnati, were discharged yesterday, no evidence being found to sustain the charge.

To be Sprinkled.—The residents of Birmingham living on the line of the passenger railway are about purchasing a watering cart to sprinkle Carson street during the heated term.

OUR EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Presidential Pardons—War Department Employees—Relief Claims—Case of General Blair—Removals and New Appointments—Bill Re-organizing the Judiciary—Redemption of Indebtedness Certificates, &c.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Special dispatches from Washington to the morning papers say that the President yesterday granted pardon to B. Palmer, of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, formerly a Brigadier General in the rebel army. On the strongest recommendations the President has granted pardons to the following persons held for criminal offenses: Charles E. Moulet, of Illinois, now under arrest for stealing letters from the Postoffice, at Chicago; George Cook, of New York, convicted of smuggling, sentenced to thirty days confinement, and to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and James W. Bowling, of New York, also convicted of smuggling, and sentenced to pay a fine of one hundred dollars, and imprisonment for sixty days.

The War Department reports that of its employes six hundred and eighty-five were in the Union army, and but one in the rebel army. The latter was appointed by Mr. Lincoln, because he was obliged to have some occupation that would not subject him to recapture.

The House Committee on Claims have decided to postpone the consideration of the senate bill, for the relief of certain naval contractors till the 20th of June next. The committee had had four hundred and thirty cases submitted to them this session, and reported favorably on three hundred and fifty of them. The claims amounted, in the aggregate, to seven millions of dollars, and the claims allowed have fallen below a hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The refusal of the senate to confirm general Frank Blair as Collector of Internal Revenue at St. Louis was reconsidered by that body, in executive session on Friday, and the whole subject reopened.

J. B. Smith and Major Cheeny are reported to have been appointed Collector and Assessor for the first Congressional District of Wisconsin, vice Emerson and Bronson, removed. Col. Starr is also spoken of as almost certain to receive the postmastership of Milwaukee.

Mr. George Shea, of New York, who has been a week in Washington, attending to the preliminaries of Jeff. Davis' trial, has gone to Fortress Monroe to consult his client.

The instructions to Mr. Campbell, our Minister to Mexico, will not be published till the return of Mr. Seward, who, it is said, is opposed to giving any decided aid to the Liberals. At this season, it is also said, General Logan declined the mission.

The Judiciary Committee of the House have received letters from the leading lawyers throughout the country, in favor of the senate bill reorganizing the present Judiciary system of the United States. A majority of the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia are said to favor the granting to the District by a Commissioner, and doing away entirely with the election of Mayor and council.

Among the amendments to the Tax bill is one taxing off from passengers the two and a half per cent. tax saddled upon them by the Internal Revenue bill. It will be put upon the corporations.

The Secretary of the Treasury announces that he is prepared to redeem, before maturity, all certificates of indebtedness due in July and August, 186, with accrued interest thereon, if presented before May 31, and that thereafter such certificates will cease to bear interest.

The President has pardoned three of the Alexandria rioters, sent to the Albany Penitentiary last winter.

The President has appointed visitors to the approaching examination at the United States Military Academy, at West Point, commencing on the first Monday in June.

The Late Fire in New York—The Work of an Incendiary.

New York, May 24.—The loss at the Academy of Music conflagration, with adjoining buildings, is now estimated at over $1,000,000. The Academy, with ground, cost $500,000, upon which there is an insurance of $200,000. It is estimated that $250,000 is sufficient to rebuild the Opera House. The managers have met and determined to have the Academy rebuilt by the first of November. It is now ascertained that the persons named Dan Peters and Pete. Welsh were burned to death. Their remains were recovered this morning. Some barrels in a restaurant in the rear of the Academy of Music took fire and caused the conflagration. The fire was no doubt the work of an incendiary.

From St. Domingo—Haytiens Defeated Another Revolution Plotted.

New York, May 24.—Advices from St. Domingo to the 9th state that President Baez was passing sentence of death on the prisoners of war and conspirators captured by him.

The Haytiens had been defeated by the troops of Baez.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1866.

Gold opened at 138¾, and advanced to 139¼, with a strong upward tendency—the highest point it has touched for months. Government bonds are a shade lower. The following are Mr. P. R. Mertz's New York quotations: Gold, 138; 1881's, 107¾; 5-20's, 107@107¼; 10-40's, 95¼; and 7-30's, 103@103¾.

The return of Five Twenty bonds from Europe is not caused by distrust in the soundness of our financial system, but is the natural result of overtrading. A large number of foreign houses in the eastern cities, bankers as well as importers, have been using 5-20 bonds as collateral for their bills of exchange, drawn at 60 days against the value of these bonds; but as soon as a large amount of home securities were thrown on the markets there to be converted into hard money, the ability of German and English houses to carry these securities on a margin was beyond their power. And since our bonds commanded a higher price at home, caused by the abundance of currency balances in the money centres, these bonds were re-shipped for a while with a profit. German Bankers who sold our bonds some months since for future delivery, knew what was to come, and they strengthened themselves by heavy purchases of gold at 135@137, as a sub-guard for their to be returned bonds. What bankers did in bonds was done in like manner by cotton operators, and both now see the fallacy of their operations.

At the New York stock Board, Bonnehoi oil stock sold to-day at 12; Pithole Creek, 2; United States, 5½; Gregory Gold, 11; Quartz do, 4; and Barnsdale, 9. In our market, local stocks are very quiet. Railroad shares are steady at 86 for Fort Wayne, 80 for Cleveland & Pittsburgh, Allegheny Valley, 42; Shamokin, 44; and Connellsville, 43. Columbia oil, 18 to 18½.

—The Titusville Herald, of Tuesday, has the following in regard to oil matters, at the wells:

The petroleum markets are still on the decline. Crude was sold on the creek, to-day as low as $3.75 and many of the producers were offering to sell at $4, without buyers. The New York market has declined 5c. Private advices assign the cause of this falling to the danger of the Pittsburgh market getting bare, and flooding the eastern markets with 200,000 barrels of crude there. This shows the necessity of the producers combining so as to store their own oil in iron-clad tanks. Until this is done they can never be independent of outside speculation and fluctuation.

Cable reports from London and Europe say there is no saying, under the present feverish state of the market, how low oil will be driven. The shippers here state that it would not be safe to offer more than $10 per barrel, though oil, it offered at that figure might induce parties to buy largely on speculation. The fluctuations of gold, present quotations to be bought on orders from parties who desire a rise to buy a certain amount weekly in all shades of the market.

There is also quite a small stock compared with the total amount of production that the tanks must be rapidly filling at the wells. Under this pressure on at the wells has declined steadily, and the producers are glad to get barrel per day since the reaction commenced.

Had the producers the proper facilities for holding their oil for two or three months at a time, buyers could not force a clear sweep of all the stock in other markets until the price was a figure corresponding with the idea of producers, in this manner the controlling influence would be taken from the sells, not among eastern speculators as it now always is.

—The heavy gold export last week, and the advance of the rate of sterling exchange to 109, fully one per cent above the point at which it is profitable to export gold, has awakened the liveliest interest as to its cause and the consequence. The cause is, in a great measure, to be ascribed to the high prices of cotton and to good crops of grain and cotton in prospect in the foreign market. It is a well-known fact that, for four years past nearly every German firm in New York that could sell a foreign bill of exchange has done so, and the profits of buying and shipping 20 bonds to Europe to the extent of their ability to sell exchange. The result has been an accumulation of 20 bonds in the hands of bankers in England and Europe, like cotton, or any other produce for the market. At the beginning of last December the American continent was groaning under 5-20 bonds, and the high prices of cotton were brought in consequence of the panic of England. Each month since, cotton and 5-20 bonds have become less saleable as a means of trade for them, and more inconvenient to carry. Consequently a large holdings were forced to sell and realize. Large sales as a matter of course, make a large supply and weak prices. Middling cotton has tumbled from 21 to 16d, and 5-20's from 73 to 69. It is estimated that the present decline in cotton will bring to the United States over $100,000,000 in gold during the first year, another that a corresponding amount of gold interest will fall due, in nearly equal, at any time, to the daily receipts through that month for customs.

New York Money and Stock Market.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Money is more active and firmer, at 6@7 per cent, chiefly at the latter rate. Sterling steady at 109@109¼. Gold firmer and closed at 139¼@139¾. Government stocks heavy, and 1881's 1/8@¼ lower. Freight to Liverpool firmer at 13-16d. Flour 5@10c better, with a fair export demand. Wheat 1@2c lower. Corn 1c lower. Pork heavy. Lard dull. Whiskey firmer at 24@24½. The following were the principal sales: Western Union Telegraph, 93; New York Central, 96¾; Michigan Southern, 78¾; Illinois Central, 116; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 86; Chicago & Northwestern, preferred, 76; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 64; Cleveland & Toledo, 103; Chicago & Northwestern, 36; Cleveland, Columbus & Cincinnati, 97; Michigan Central, 97; Western Union Telegraph, 69; Illinois Central scrip, 92; Western Union Telegraph, 69; 5's coupons, 103; do, 1864 coupons, 92 3/8@92¾; do, 65, 101; 10-40's, 95@95¼; Missouri 6's, 80; and Mississippi Sterlings, 27; 50 bbls Pork first series, 39 1/2.

The Commercial's money article says: The change in the rate for the payment of money on call has not been sufficiently extended among parties dependent upon loans, most of the remaining five per cent loans have been put up to 6 and seven per cent, and this is especially the case with borrowers in very active departments. In general rate being seven per cent on call, with rare exceptions at six per cent. The demand, however, is small for new loans, and there will be no difficulty in borrowing to the extent called for by the banks at seven per cent. The banks are pushing for and willing to keep up the rate at six per cent, and for the reason they are not likely to fall below this figure, unless the pressure upon their lenders declines materially. The disposition to realize upon stocks, except under a sharper pressure than at present exists. The market, however, is likely to receive steady support from the treasury through the payment of our year certificates for redemption.

The sub-Treasury has delivered about $2,000,000 of gold this morning on account of certificates of deposit, which were issued yesterday, and to-day from three to four millions will be likely also, which will compel the banks to draw from the late supplies of gold. To-day's market was somewhat depressed under the pinch in the Money market. On the one side there was some realizing and on the other considerable inducement to sell, as the belief is that gold will soon reach, however, a higher point, so that it may be interpreted whether the market is to be depressed or not that has been the present condition of affairs. Sterling exchange has been sharply withheld, thus affecting the market generally, and to-day's break, closing at 139¼, was the result. Government securities are more active and firmer than yesterday's market, except Seven-Thirties, which are 1/8 lower. Compound interest notes are less active. The banks will probably yield all loans to pay for, and bills receivable, and there will be a slight accumulation in the money market. Foreign Exchange is nominal at about yesterday's prices. Gold has been in active export, and the price tends strongly upward.

The specie shipments to Europe to-day amounted to five millions. The government gold interest fell due to-day, and the Assistant Treasurer to-day received five millions dollars in currency from the banks, in settlement of gold sales. To-morrow a heavy draft will be made for ten millions, the next day five millions. Sterling bills are dull and heavy, pulling bankers. There were several failures among the smaller firms on the "street" as a result of the pressure.

In the cotton market there was an advance of 1@2d per pound, with increased activity. Fifteen hundred bales changed hands. The stock market was very much depressed after the one o'clock call, and Erie sold down to 67, followed by the balance of the list. Petroleum also broke. There were active bids at Pittsburgh, but generally lower. New York and Newark, 17; Webster, 23; Bonnehoi Run 20; Buchanan Farm, 38; First National, 9; New York and Allegheny, 30; Byrd Farm, 20; U. S., 6; Maning Stocks—Adah Elmore, 26; Boston, 12; Downieville, 10; Kipp & Buell, 190; Smith & Pat., 65.

Boston Fish Market.

BOSTON, May 21.—Sales of Grand Bank and Bay Fundy at $10@12 per qtl for mackerel and large, including English and French; small lots at $13@14 per qtl; Shore at $9@10, and selling in large lots at $8@9 per qtl. Halibut scarce and mostly nominal at $20@25 boneless. Cod $5@5.50 per qtl. Pollock $4@4.50 per qtl, packed.

Mackerel are again higher and still tending up. There is a speculative inquiry, and a concentration of the balance of stocks in few hands, and no good lots are offering except at extreme rates. The sales include some lots at $40@42.50 for No. 1 Bay; $30@32.50 for No. 2; $25@27.50 for No. 3; $20@22.50 for shore, held at the outside figures and upon. In New York, sales 600 bbls Bay No. 1 at $39@39.50 per bbl. Receipts of new No. 1 are expected in a few days, but no transactions to affect the market for the present. Herrings are scarce and firm at $5 per barrel. Pickled herring are quiet at $2@2.50 per bbl for common and Labrador; round herring are selling at 50@60c per box. Salmon dull for No. 1 and 2. In salmon, sales for tierces at $9 per tierce.

Detroit Lumber Market.

The prospects of lumber have decidedly improved, and the tendency is now very strongly upward. Generally, this spring, there has been a disposition to make concessions, and this inclination is among the things that were. As the Saginaws are the great producing points, our trade must necessarily take its tone from them, and we are glad to say that more than possible that we shall soon be compelled to note an advance. We have direct information that the market abroad is somewhat excited, and sales have taken place at $7 for culls, $14 for common, and $42 for box second clear and first clear, taken together. This may be considered exceptional, the contract having been made early in March, but the market looks strongly upward from these figures. The more sanguine expect prices will soon be at 40 range that will make first-class lumber very remunerative. Many of the manufacturers have made contracts largely ahead, and some of them have made those they would give considerable to rescind.—Post.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, May 23.—Flour firm; extra state, $9@10; western spring extra, $9@10. Wheat scarce and firm, but quiet. Corn active and firm, at 72c for No. 1. Oats 66@67c. Barley, $1.10@1.20. Rye firm; western 90c. Corn is better; only moderate demand. Sugar-cured hams nominal; new No. 1 Milwaukie lard 23c. Pork, mess, $24.50@25. Butter quiet at 20@21 for ohio, and 24@25 for State.

Oswego Market.

OSWEGO, May 23.—Flour active and unchanged; $10 for No. 1 spring; $11.75@12.50 for No. 2 Amber; $12@12.50 for extra. Wheat firm but dull; No. 1 Milwaukie club $2.02@2.10; and white winter red winter $2.05@2.07. Corn 2c higher; sales of No. 1 Illinois held at 76@77c; also held prime yellow at 78c. Oats held at 74c for western.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1866.

The advance in gold has imparted a little firmer feeling to the produce markets, but there is no special excitement, and values have undergone little or no change.

GRAIN—Wheat is a quiet but dull; prety firmly. Oats a shade easier and in better demand; sale of 2 cars No. 1 Chicago—in elevator at 54. Corn is dull and the supply is somewhat in excess of the demand. Sale of 3 cars Ear at 74.

FLOUR—Is steady with a continued fair local demand, while prices remain unchanged. We continue to quote at $10.50 to $10.75 for the choice grades of Spring, and $12 to $13 for Winter Wheat brands. Sales of Rye Flour at $8.50.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm with a fair jobbing demand, at 16c for Shoulders; 17 for Ribsides; 21½ for Plain Sugar Cured Hams; and 23@24 for Canvassed do. Lard is less active but unchanged; 22@22½ for prime kettle rendered. There is very little inquiry for Mess Pork.

POTATOES—The market is becoming a little weak, owing mainly to the liberal arrivals, and prices are a shade lower. We now quote at $1.30@1.40 per bushel, and $3.50 to $3.85 per barrel according to quality.

CHEESE—Is quiet but steady with sales of Western Reserve at 12@13, and Goshen at 20@21 cents.

BUTTER—Continues very dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand. Sales at 20 to 25, for common to prime Roll.

DRIED FRUIT—Common Apples are selling at 11@12, which is the rate at which dried are none in market—would sell at 17@18. Peaches in light supply and firm at 10@13 for quarters and halves.

OILS—No. 1 Lard quoted at $1.85@1.90.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in good demand at $2.95, and a round lot would probably command a higher figure. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy.

BUCKWHEAT—Is in better supply and lower; we can report a sale of 100 bushels, for seed, at $2.50 per bush.

HAY—There is little or no inquiry for baled Hay, and there is not much in market. Loose Hay is selling at sales at $20 to $25 per ton, as to quality.

SORGHUM—Is dull at 50 to 60.

SALT—Is quoted at $2.40 per bbl by the car load—the usual advance for small lots.

FISH—Lake Herring firm with sales at $5.75@6 per half bbl. White Fish firm at $5.50 per half bbl.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1866.

CRUDE—There was again some considerable inquiry for Crude to-day, and the sales were moderately large, though mostly on private terms. We continue to quote at 12@13, delivered, and in bbls included, with sales of 200 bbls at 14; and 100 bbls, in bulk, on private terms. In addition to the sales reported, it is said that a considerable amount changed hands, but the particulars we re kept secret, for reasons best known to the parties interested. There is still some little inquiry for shipment, but refiners are buying sparingly, hoping thereby to force a still further decline in the price. The eastern news is by no means encouraging, while the general impression it is said, rule supreme at the wells.

REFINED—There is still some inquiry for boiling oil, but the market is dull and weak, both for export and home trade, and the transactions, comparatively speaking, restricted, and transactions, to use a common phrase, are "few and far between." We quote the bulk sale to report—100 bbls for July delivery in Philadelphia, seller's option, at 41. We are cognizant of offers to buy at 42 for June, and 43 for July delivery, while 44 for August would probably be realized. The foreign news has produced a very confused and unsettled state of affairs in oil circles, both in Philadelphia and New York, and it is quite evident that in the event of a foreign war the export demand will be very much restricted; and this, as a matter of course, has a tendency to produce a very lively feeling in favor of exporters—more particularly those who have large contracts for future delivery.

—Since the above was put in type we have to following additional sales reported for bbls for June, seller's option, at 42—free on board cars, here; and 500 for August, seller's option, at 38—on cars at works.

BBLS—Is dull. There was a fair single arrival on to-day, and consequently, we have nothing to report. It is predicted that the arrivals will be light for some time, as but little oil is now being purchased for this market.
